soever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them."

The Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance has also come to Mrs. Grout's aid. As a rule, the County cannot offer extended aid to individuals who have just moved here from out of state, but this rule is relaxed when illness enters the picture.

County Helps

"We are taking care of the rent, food bills, clothing needs, public transportation, and certain personal needs," Ross Lopez, director of the Long Beach branch office stated, after hearing of Mrs. Grout's predicament and investigating her case.

Mrs. Grout still has difficulty believing what has happened, but now she is full of hope and faith regarding the future.

Million Dollar Look

"I have told Bob about everything that has happened," she said, smiling. "He was so stunned he couldn't say anything, but his expression was worth a million dollars to see."

"He and I would like to thank everyone for their wonderful generosity — we just can't tell you how much it has meant to us," she concluded.

Mrs. Grout is hopeful that it will be only a matter of three weeks now before her husband can come home again. His condition is such that he does not even have to stay in an iron lung at the hospital.

While Mrs. Grout does not have a phone, a neighbor, Mrs. Frank Kellogg has made her phone available for any inquiries. (FR. 5-5697).

One thing which Mrs. Grout could still use is a baby stroller.

"I forgot to tell you about the children," Mrs. Grout added by way of a postscript. "Pat was so thrilled with his tricycle that he took it to bed with him. And Terry—well, when Bob saw that she could walk, his face turned 40 different colors with happiness!"

that rabies exists in any specific area.

Half the fines collected by any court for violations of Health and Safety Code provisions covering rabies would also be placed in the fund for the treatment and eradication of the disease.

Torrance's City Council last week voted 3-2 in favor of a law requiring the vaccination of all dogs against rabies.

The second and final vote on the matter—and considered to be a mere technicality—will be held October 19. The law would mend signals in which case it would go 50-50 on the cost with the city of Torrance.

Or, the State may recommend both.

Regardless of what is done, no action can be taken without the State's approval because go into effect 30 days later.

The City Council is expected to take the necessary steps for setting up the vaccination program at the October 18 meeting. Shots will be nominal, costing $2 per dog and will be good for two years.

Mothers are indignant because the Meadow Park school crossing is a 35 m.p.h. zone without signs indicating that this is a school zone, and without a yellow crosswalk or signals.

Led by Mrs. Alfred Knopp of 3703 W. 225th st., P.T.A. safety chairman, a line of mothers, sometimes totaling 50 may be seen stretched out across the highway bearing signs which read: City-State, Don't Tempt Fate; Must Our Children Die; Safety Is All We Want; 55 Miles vs. School Children; This Is a School Crossing; Who To Blame? City or State.

them many types of tanks, trucks, artillery pieces, engineering equipment, armored personnel carriers, and a multitude of the latest in military equipment. There will be four public address systems placed along the route of march, to announce the units as they pass.

In addition, there are some twenty-four units from the Torrance area that are expected to take part in the parade including Torrance Mounted Police, Torrance Fire Dept., Torrance Police Dept., Torrance Dept. of Recreation, Torrance Civil Defense, Red Cross, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Torrance high school band, Torrance Area youth band, Mira Costa high school band, Retail Merchants assn., Torrance Chamber of Commerce, Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce, Torrance Elks club, General Petroleum Harvey Machine company, Longgreen Aircraft, Torrance Lions club, Boy Scouts of America, Redondo Elks club, Ft. McArthur military band, 40th division band.

The parade will be approximately 1 1/2 miles in length, lasting 1 hour.

Jets

A flight of jets from the California Air National Guard will pass over the review stand just as the national flag is raised. Sgt. D. C. Cook of the Torrance Police is parade coordinator, and all units desiring to participate, should contact him at the Torrance Police Department.

The dance will start at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce, service club sponsors of the local Guard unit.

A decorating committee under chairman Everett Leatherman, acting for the Jaycees, has been working on the decorations for the new armory. The Jaycee club has appropriated $400 from its treasury for this use.

The dance will be open to the general public, and music will be provided by Frank James' orchestra.

Tickets for the dance are now being made available for

"Our pay scale for them is no different than for other employees," Hemphill stated. "It is not a charitable gesture. If they can't do one particular job we transfer them to another. We have 900 different job classifications."

Hemphill also stated that his company does not place any age limits on individuals. "Our oldest employee is 82 years old," he said.

He further stated that hiring physically limited individuals has no effect on the compensation insurance rate since that rate is based on the company's record, not on the type of individuals employed.

200 Seek Jobs Here

Mrs. Winona Ellis, luncheon chairman and manager of the California Department of Employment in Torrance, pointed out that she has applications from 200 "physically limited" individuals who are looking for employment.

Also present at the luncheon were members of the Community Committee for Employment of the Physically Handicapped.

of Torrance object to the mayor's wishful thinking. Actually, Torrance is the fastest growing city in the United States. In 1950, the federal census showed 22,241 residents ... today 65,000 people reside within Torrance's 18.88 square miles. We are growing at the rate of 1600 persons monthly.

"Torrance means to keep its identity and independence," the letter concluded in a final burst of civic pride. "Los Angeles could well look to Torrance for efficiency and economy in government and strong local pride and civic consciousness."
